DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-2, 4-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the combination of Bauer et al (US Patent No. 5,422,234) and Sakai et al (US Patent No. 4,011,082). Bauer et al discloses a thermally processable imaging element substantially as claimed. See the element in the abstract; the overcoat layer containing polyalkoxysilane in column 4, lines 49-68 to column 5; the coating aid in column 8, lines 5-10; and surfactant in column 13, line 40. Sakai et al discloses a surfactant within the scope of the claimed formula (I) when X is $-NR_2-$ and R₂ is hydrogen atom, and R₁ is an alkyl group. See Sakai et al in column 5, compound 24; and column 3, compound (III) when R' is an alkyl substituted heterocyclic group. It would have been obvious to the worker of ordinary skill in the art to use the surface active agent taught in Sakai et al to facilitate the coating process of the material taught in Bauer et al, and thereby provide a material as claimed.

3. Claim 3 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The US Patent No. 6,780,576 cited of interest is not considered as prior art due the same US filing date.
